5.0 out of 5 stars Run Run as fast as you can. June 12, 2001. Format: Hardcover. I read this book when I was very young and it has stayed very close to my heart for many years. Even now at 21 I am desperately looking for a copy. This book was the first book to make me cry all those years ago and it made me realize the power of reading.

Run, run, run as fast as you can, You'll never catch me, I'm the gingerbread man. I ran from the baker and his wife too. You'll never catch me, not any of you. Then came a pig and cow and hare Who joined in the chase around the square. They were all hungry and ready to eat, But that gingerbread man was too quick on his feet. Run, run, run as fast as you can,

~~Quote by Lewis Carroll: "My dear, here we must run as fast ..."~~

To run faster, focus on something far away you and run towards it. When you are getting tired at the end of the race, focus on driving and swinging your arms. Swinging your arms faster makes your legs run faster. Do a warm up before you run. Use your arms, as the faster they go, then the faster your legs will go.
